Thank you for no longer accepting ground beef from downed cows for Federal Programs.

Please consider doing the same for all downed animals in all aspects. Remember this is not healthy food for humans to consume due to risk of bacterial contamination and whatever else is ailing them.

As well please consider the humane measures that would be taken to prevent illness and downed animals if they could no longer be sold.

I don't think anyone loses with these measures. So what if McDonald's has to raise their hamburger price to $.69? Is that the worst outcome from more humane treatment and healthier food standards?

Sincerely,
